Scoring Instructions for the Vanderbilt Assessment Scale—Teacher Informant

The Vanderbilt Assessment Scale has two components: symptom assessment and impairment of performance.

For the ADHD screen, the symptoms assessment component screens for symptoms that meet the criteria for both inattentive (items 1-9) and hyperactive-impulsive ADHD (items 10-18). To meet DSM-IV criteria for the diagnosis of ADHD, one must have at least 6 responses of "Often" or "Very Often" (scored 2 or 3) to either the 9 inattentive or 9 hyperactive-impulsive items, or both and a score of 4 or 5 on any of the Performance items (36-43). There is a place to record the number of symptoms that meet this criteria in each subgroup.

The Vanderbilt Assessment Scale also contains items that screen for 3 other co-morbidities: oppositional defiant disorder (items 19-22), conduct disorder (items 23-28), and anxiety/depression (items 29-35).

To screen for oppositional defiant disorder/conduct disorder one must have at least 3 responses of "Often" or "Very Often" on items 19-28 and a score of 4 or 5 on any of the Performance items (36-43).

To screen for anxiety/depression one must have at least 3 responses of "Often" or "Very Often" on items 29-35 and a score of 4 or 5 on any of the Performance items 36-43.

The Vanderbilt Assessment Scale should NOT be used alone to make a diagnosis. The practitioner must consider information from other sources and may ask for the child's report cards, samples of the child's schoolwork, as well as any psychometric testing done.
